- E-commerce by entering the site www.aasfn.sm and following the instructions. This is the easiest, safest, cheapest and fastest payment option. Credit card details are transmitted encrypted to guarantee safety and privacy. We expect e-commerce to be used more and more often in the future, so much so that we have revamped our site and modernized order and payment procedures, in the belief that our affectionate international customers will appreciate this.
- We would like to remind you that postal regulations forbid the sending of cash.

SUBSCRIPTION SERVICE

To be certain of receiving all the philatelic series and numismatic items issued throughout the year, taking advantage of the special conditions offered to this type of affectionate customer, the AASFN offers a series of inventory subscriptions to make ordering, paying and registering easier. With a single order and a single payment, and a consequent saving in postal and bank charges, you will have the convenience of receiving the number of philatelic series ordered at the beginning of the year and the numismatic items that interest you. As regards stamps, we undertake to allocate all the series independently of any increase in face value, while for numismatics we undertake only to deliver the products without being able to guarantee the cost of objects produced in precious metals, in view of the current variability in raw material prices.

NEWSLETTER SERVICE

For anyone wishing to keep up to date on all our activities and issues it is possible to subscribe to our newsletter on www.aasfn.sm. This service allows subscribers to keep in touch with our company whether they make purchases or not. Naturally enough our project is to arouse the curiosity of the greatest possible number of people and attract them to the world of philately and numismatics, with the main intention of making it known among the young.
